

There are two airports in Istanbul; “Ataturk” and “Sabiha Gokcen”. Detailed direction from Ataturk Airport to the Safranbolu is given below.

(Although Sabiha Gokcen Airport is closer to Safranbolu than Ataturk Airport as distance, connection to Coach Station is easier from Ataturk Airport. If you arrive to Sabiha Gokcen, you need to take a taxi to Way Bus Stations. If you will do this, tell to taxi driver to take you “Metro Turizm Samandira Station” or “Kamil Koc Turizm Dudullu Station”.)

FROM ATATURK AIRPORT TO THE HOTEL in SAFRANBOLU

You are at Istanbul Ataturk Airport.
This guide will help you to arrive to Safranbolu in Karabuk Province.

After passport control, you'll need to go to Istanbul Coach Station (OTOGAR). The best option to Safranbolu is coach journey. There is no direct flight or train possibilities.

We advise you to exchange. First floor in the airport you can find a change office.

Subway is the best way to go there.

The picture on the left side is a signboard for subway.

To get on subway you must go downstairs.

To get on subway you must have a token.

You can buy token by using machine which is seen on the picture. Turkish Lira (perhaps coins) is necessary.

There is only one subway route from the Airport (The red line in below graphic).
So, don't worry. Just directly ride on the train that you see first, to reach Coach Station (Otogar).

Route to Coach Station from Airport (Coach Station = Otogar)

On diagram you can see the route of subway. Now, you are at Airport. Tenth station is the coach station. You'll get off there.

To access the Istanbul Coach Station you must go upstairs.
